Hundreds of health articles appear in newspapers and magazines, and in practically every one of them the importance of keeping the bowels regular is emphasized. A constipated condition invites disease. A dependable physic that acts without inconvenience of griping is found in Foley Cathartic Tablets. For sale by Reed & Burnett.

LANTANA.

We have had one week of good weather; the first in three months. S. L. Vandever is going to move to Lantana and take charge of the post-office.

P. E. Beyer and J. W. Vandever made a trip to Clifty last week.

There is a very interesting Literary Society at Lantana, which meets every Saturday night.

We have a Bible class at Lantana every Sunday at 2 p. m.

Prof. William Wyatt has recently closed a very successful term of twenty days' singing school here.

SEED POTATOES.

The season is near at hand when people will begin to buy seed potatoes and as usual some will wish to secure their seed from Maine.

The government recently called attention to the fact that the brown scale had appeared in Maine from Europe and that persons who buy seed potatoes that come from Maine should be sure to buy only the government inspected seed for in that way only can they be safe in securing seed that is not infected with disease. A much better course for our people here would be to buy the very best home grown seed they can secure and be content with that. If you think you will need to buy seed potatoes, stop eating what you have and use your home grown potatoes for seed and buy for family use. Begin it now.

CHILDREN'S COUGHS—CHILDREN'S COLDS—BOTH ARE SERIOUS.

When one of your little ones shows symptoms of an approaching cold, give it Dr. Bells' Pien Tar Honey at once. It acts quickly, and prevents the cold growing worse. Very soothing to the lungs, loosens the mucous, strengthens the system. It's guaranteed. Only 25c. at your druggist. By a bottle today.

CRAB ORCHARD.

D. M. Wheeler was in Crossville Saturday on business.

A. Dorton was in Crossville Friday and Saturday summoned as a juror.

Cork Smith, of Dogwood, was the week-end guest of George Hembry.

Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Myers were guests of Mrs. Myers' parents, Mr. and Mrs. McCamy, Saturday and Sunday. Gladyn Swicegood has gone to Alabama after a short visit with home folks.

Mrs. R. F. Rose has been ill with la-grippe, but is much better at this time. Quite a number of our citizens were in Crossville last week serving on the grand jury.

Miss Stella Hembry was in Crossville Friday.

Little Miss Thelma Crow is quite ill, threatened with pneumonia.

The many friends of Miss Edith McCamy will be delighted to hear she is progressing splendidly with her music in Athens.

Mrs. Jim McCough and Harley Crow went to Kingston Thursday to consult Dr. Anderson, but business was so rushing with him that they came home Saturday without being able to see him.

Mrs. D. V. Hatfield is visiting in Rockwood and Harriman.

Short Watson moved his family to the Hudson farm last week, which he has rented and means to crop there. Short is one of the hardest working men in our town and we are sure will make good.

Raymond Kerley is working on the Headley house out a mile from town and expects to move there and fence and clear up the place in time to put in a crop. There is plenty of work to be done there, but we know of no one who will make more of a success there than Raymond.

Miss Lum Center went to Rockwood today for two weeks.

Miss Grace Ray spent the week-end with her parents at Meridian, returning to school Monday morning.

The many friends of Alfred Hedge-coth were glad to see him in town Saturday. This is the first time he has been away from home since he was hurt last September by his team running away. We are glad to see him able to be about on crutches and think soon he can go without them.

Half Your Living Without Money Cost

A right or wrong start in 1915 will make or break most farmers in the Cotton States. We are all facing a crisis on cotton. Cotton credit is upset. The supply merchant cannot advance supplies on 1915 cotton. You must do your best to produce on your own acres the food and grain supplies that have made up most of your store debt in the past.

A good piece of garden ground, rightly planted, rightly tended and kept planted the year round, can be made to pay half your living. It will save you more money than you made on the best five acres of cotton you ever grew! But it must be a real garden, and not the mere one-planting patch in the spring and fall.

Hastings' 1915 Seed Book tells all about the right kind of a money-saving garden and the vegetables to put in it. It tells about the field crops as well and shows you the clear road to real farm prosperity, comfort and independence. IT'S FREE. Send for it today to H. G. HASTINGS & CO., Atlanta, Ga.—Adv.

Many Uses of Blotting Paper.
Blotting paper has many other uses besides the absorption of ink. If grease is spilled on a rug or carpet cover the spot with a piece of blotting paper and place a warm iron, not hot, over the spot. Grease on the wall may be removed by covering with blotting paper and pressing with a warm iron. Fine lace and collars may be quickly dried by being placed between two sheets of blotting paper and covering with a weight. If you are short on rubber rings when canning, blotting paper rings will serve just as well as rubber. There are many more uses for blotting paper which will suggest themselves to the alert housewife.

Renter Who Got His Start With a Garden, Now Owns a Good Farm.

Atlanta, Ga.—(Special).—An interesting story of a former South Carolina renter, now a Georgia land owner and successful farmer, is told by H. G. Hastings, chairman of the Agricultural Committee and the managing director of the Georgia Corn Show.

Meeting this farmer on a train the other day, Mr. Hastings asked him if he had sold any cotton yet. He laughed and said:

"I have stored away my crop of nineteen bales, insured it and am going to keep it until I get good and ready to turn it loose. I am in shape to hold it three years, if necessary, to get what I consider a fair price."

Surprised and gratified to meet a man who made cotton chiefly as a surplus cash crop, Mr. Hastings inquired further, and this, in brief, is the story his farmer friend told him:

"Fifteen years ago I was a renter on a South Carolina plantation. I was carried, as thousands of others are, by landlord and supply merchant. Pretty soon I saw I was paying twice as much or more for supplies than I could make them for at home. "The very first thing I did was to start a home garden of only one planting. Then I found that for half the year I had no vegetables at all, except canned stuff I bought at the stores. Next year I turned my garden into an all-the-year-round one, and there was never a month when I didn't have all the vegetables I needed, raised by myself. I used the best ground I had and put all the farm manure on it. It paid me handsomely, fully half of my living.

"That is how I got my start. I began to make my own meat, corn, oats and other crops. I didn't have quite as much time to sit around the house or to talk politics, but I got along and today own a good Georgia farm and have a bank account. The home garden did it, and will do the same thing for any one who goes at it right."

WHAT LOVE IS!

"Love," writes the editor of an eastern paper, "is at first an illusion and then a delusion."

We can't remember just who this editor is nor in what paper the quotation appeared, but we'll bet our Sunday-go-to-meeting' boiled shirt that he walks backwards and that instead of good red blood there flows through his veins the sourest of vinegar.

Probably somewhere back in his purple, palpitating past there was a girl who passed him by and married the other fellow and ever since the carking canker of crabbedness has been eating away and eating away at that which once beat as his heart.

Love a delusion!

By all the golden, sunny ringlets on the brow of Cupid, by all the sweet lips that ever puckered into a rosebud to receive the kiss of a lover, we swear that love is no delusion.

Does a delusion make the world go 'round? Is the blue sky an illusion?

Is it an illusion when our cardiac pumping-station goes all a-flutter at the soft-whispered words of the sweetest girl God ever made?

Is it an illusion when we thrill in every nerve if a tiny, soft, velvety hand chances to linger, just for an instant, in ours, as we look into a pair of eyes whose limpid depths make the profundity of the ocean seem shallow as a mud-puddle?

Is it an illusion when the very marrow in our spinal column freezes if we hear that "THE" girl has a date with another fellow?

Is it an illusion when she buries her face behind the lapel of our coat, shyly nods her little head and answers "yes" when we ask her the greatest question in the world? Is it IS it?

We should say NOT!

Love is the concentrated essence of goodness, sprinkled upon the tender petals of a crystallized violet. It comes sky-hooting down from the high heavens on a mellow moonbeam, entwines its silken tendrils about your fluttering heart until your breath comes in short, quick, ecstatic gasps and your soul just seems to float away on a billow of seatoam to the island of Rosebuds and Orange Blossoms.

Love an illusion?

It is NOT. And believe us, we know. We've tried it often enough.

AFTER MANY YEARS.
